Good morning,

Thank you for the support. I was briefed by OPP this morning on the status of the request. This is very helpful. Police are in the process of making arrests and towing away some vehicles.

Some remain and some others are dispersing on their own.

I do not know what the long term operational plan is.

No injuries or violence reported.

The remainder of the City remains quiet and under control.

Good morning Chief Laforet,

For your situational awareness, MTO has advised the PEOC that three loads (45 units) of TCBs (Jersey Barriers), are set to arrive as soon as possible this morning. MTO has advised OPP that the TCBs will reach Windsor around 8:30 am, along with 4 blocker trucks.

Based on media reports and Windsor Police's Twitter this morning, I understand that the current situation is evolving as enforcement activities continue. I am checking in to see if you have any updates this morning on the current situation and any other changes or news overnight, along with any plans or meetings scheduled for today. Any additional information you may be able to provide, understanding that this remains an on-going police matter, would be greatly appreciated.

Best regards,

Holly Robert
